

The image contains ten blank musical staves, each consisting of five horizontal lines. They are arranged vertically down the page, providing space for musical notation.