

The image contains six identical sets of blank musical staves, arranged vertically. Each set consists of five parallel horizontal lines, providing a template for writing musical notation.